

Questions

The word order.

1) Read these two examples:

- a) Do you live in Vienna? (_____)
b) Where do you live? (_____)

→ There are _____ kinds of questions.
The first one starts with an _____. (here: _____)
The second one starts with a _____ word. (here: _____)

2) How are they built?

- a)

--	--	--	--
- b)

--	--	--	--	--

→ In every kind of question, I must use the right auxiliary.

The auxiliary:

The present simple: Yes, She learns English at school. → _____
The past simple: No, they didn't go to Spain last year. → _____
The present perfect: Yes, he has already been to Cuba. → _____
The past continuous: No, we weren't dancing. → _____
Etc...

Be careful with BE!!!

Be is verb and auxiliary at the same time so, you don't need another auxiliary to ask a question with be.

- Yes, I am French. → _____
No, she wasn't at home. → _____*

The WH:

You want to know: the place: _____/the time: _____/
The number: _____/ the speed: _____/ the length: _____
_____ / the person: _____/ the owner: _____/
The height of someone: _____/ of something: _____

Questions

The word order.

1) Read these two examples:

- a) Do you live in Vienna? (_____)
b) Where do you live? (_____)

→ There are _____ kinds of questions.
The first one starts with an _____. (here: _____)
The second one starts with a _____ word. (here: _____)

2) How are they built?

- a)

--	--	--	--
- b)

--	--	--	--	--

→ In every kind of question, I must use the right auxiliary.

The auxiliary:

The present simple: Yes, She learns English at school. → _____
The past simple: No, they didn't go to Spain last year. → _____
The present perfect: Yes, he has already been to Cuba. → _____
The past continuous: No, we weren't dancing. → _____
Etc...

Be careful with BE!!!

Be is verb and auxiliary at the same time so, you don't need another auxiliary to ask a question with be.

- Yes, I am French. → _____
No, she wasn't at home. → _____*

The WH:

You want to know: the place: _____/the time: _____/
The number: _____/ the speed: _____/ the length: _____
_____ / the person: _____/ the owner: _____/
The height of someone: _____/ of something: _____